Graphic Artist Guild.

“Maintaining high professional standards of ethics and practice, to secure the adapting to all buyers, users, sellers, and employers to established standards.” One goal of the Graphic Artists Guild is helping buyers recognize the value of graphic art to their businesses, the importance of fair and ethical relationships with graphic artists. The Guild upholds standards of value-for-value exchange, recognizing both client and artist contribution to a successful working relationship.

Copyright vs Transferring rights.

A law that creates an extend it limited monopolies that provides economic rewards and protections to artists and other creators. An agreement to transfer any exclusive (but not nonexclusive) rights, or to transfer all rights (which are by their nature exclusive), must be in writing and signed by the artist or artist's agent.
